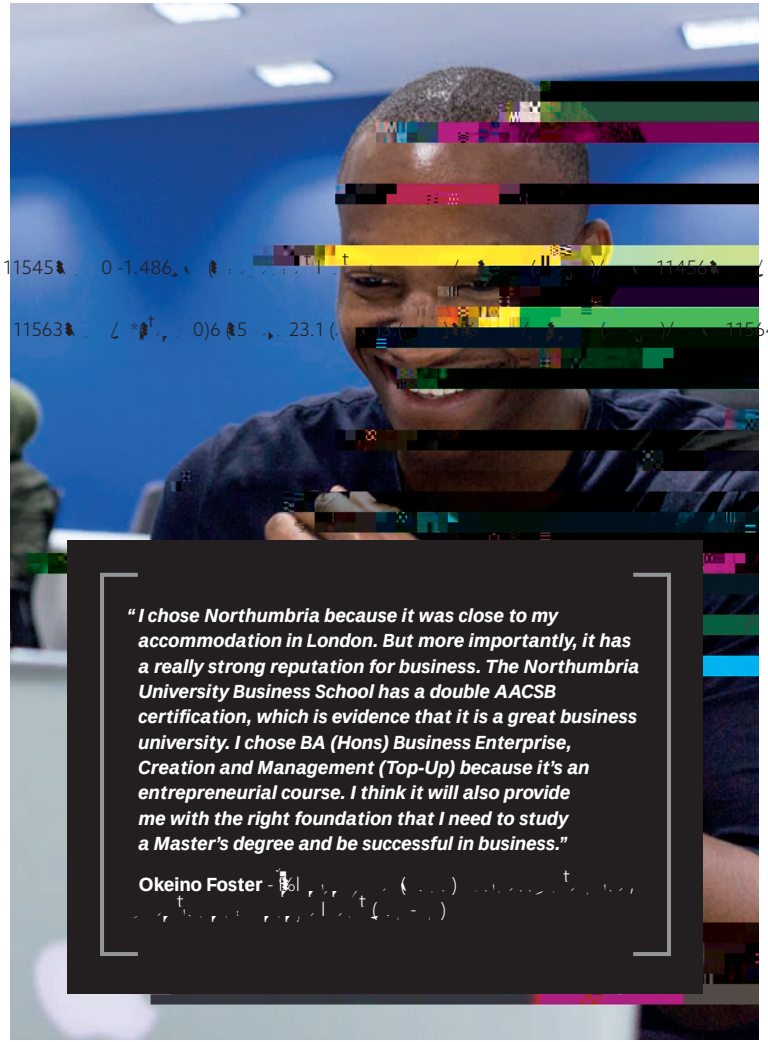
How will I be taught and assessed?



"I chose Northumbria because it was close to my accommodation in London. But more importantly, it has a really strong reputation for business. The Northumbria University Business School has a double AACSB certification, which is evidence that it is a great business university. I chose BA (Hons) Business Enterprise, Creation and Management (Top-Up) because it's an entrepreneurial course. I think it will also provide me with the right foundation that I need to study a Master's degree and be successful in business."
