

THE NATIONAL CODE OF ETHICAL PRACTICE FOR UK EDUCATION AGENTS 2021

INTRODUCTION

Pe

The National Code of Ethical Practice for UK Education Agents (referred to as 'the National Code') sets out the standards and best practice that education agents and agent aggregators, brokers and marketplaces (Digital Agent Networks), representing UK educational institutions are expected to adhere to. Born out of the London Statement (2012) and the British Council Good Practice Guide for Education Agents (2013), it is endorsed by many of the UK's education peak and promotional organisations. Education Agents have contributed to the National Code's development and UK educational institutions have committed to imbedding the National Code into their education agent contracts and quality management practices. It is not in of itself a legal document.

Definition

Education Agent

A person or organisation that deals directly with prospective international students on behalf of educational institutions. They are contracted directly or indirectly to deliver a range of services to potential students and the educational institutions. To a student, these services would ordinarily include education counselling, such as course and institution matching, and assistance with academic and visa applications.

To an educational institution, services usually include marketing and promotion services and support in

Digital Agent Network

Contracted directly by educational institutions, a digital agent network (agent aggregators, brokers and marketplaces) (sometimes referred to as a B2B Agent, Master Agent or an Outsourced Agent Management Service) facilitates the delivery of education agent services to students via a network of education agents (service delivery partners) and providing a one-to-many relationship between an educational institution and education agents. This is achieved through a technology platform and/or a sub-contracting-type arrangement. Digital agent networks
